

NATFRMLDN is a multi-genre DJ mixing sounds from HipHop and R&B, to Pop, House and Grime.

"I chose the name NATFRMLDN to represent me as a DJ not just because I'm from London, but because you can hear London as soon as I hit the decks. Everyone knows that London is such a melting pot of cultures and sounds and I grew up hearing many different languages and music from all over the world. That's why I love promoting UK artists in my sets as well as mixing in songs from different cultures, ranging from KPop to Kuduro!"

In the past NATFRMLDN has played at numerous warehouse parties in London, which expanded to iconic East London music venues including Cargo and 93 Feet East. She has also taken her sounds across the channel to France and Switzerland, playing various festivals including the VIP bar at Reggae Sun Ska, in Bordeaux, the opening and closing parties of Les Creatives Festival and Festival Antigél in Geneva. As part of a DJ duo, she also had the privilege of playing Secret Garden Party in the UK before the popular festival sadly came to an end in Summer 2017.

NATFRMLDN is the DJ alter ego of Natalia Anderson, former presenter of Virgin Media's flagship music television show. She is also the creator of growing music blog & YouTube channel, Tuneful TV, which has amassed almost 2 million views!
